More Help For Britain Indicated

New Assistance Might Be on Par With Destroyer Trade or Release of Bombers
It's Not Peanuts
Conferee at Washington Says Talks Are Not Trivial

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—Treasury Secretary Morgenthau announced today that Sir Frederick Phillips, undersecretary of the British treasury, was scheduled to arrive in the United States today "to place the latest available information (on British finances) before the United States treasury."

Morgenthau's statement consisted of only one sentence. It followed by only a few minutes a statement by Secretary of Commerce Jones, speaking as federal loan administrator, who said that the British government was "a good risk" for loans.

It was learned that the mission of Sir Frederick was one of the chief causes of a meeting yesterday of nine important government officials.

Jones said the British government was "a good risk" and that ordinarily he favored lending money to "good risks when they need it for a proper purpose."

Decision Is Imminent
Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—Imminence of an important new decision in the aid-for-Britain program, perhaps on a par with the dramatic destroyer trade or the release of giant bombers—was strongly indicated today.

Positive information was lacking as to the exact nature of the matter under consideration, but high significance was attached to the fact that it brought nine of the most important officials in the government together yesterday for a special conference.

Three in recent months similar extraordinary meetings have been held and each time, it was pointed out, a major step in aid-to-Britain followed quickly.

"These people don't get together to talk about peanuts," one conferee commented cryptically.

First surmises were that the meeting was concerned with the question of supplying Britain with enough tonnage to replace some of her recent heavy shipping losses.

One informed official said, however, that if merchant shipping was discussed, "it wasn't the big thing."

Tending to support this assertion was the Maritime Commission's action yesterday in approving the sale of four more cargo vessels to Britain. Since the war, 130 such American ships have been sold to Britain, and the commission announced that it still had 63 laid-up ships on which Britain could bid.

Officials at Conference
The officials who attended yesterday's conference at the treasury were:

Treasury Secretary Morgenthau; Secretary of War Stimson; Secretary of Navy Knox; Jesse H. Jones, secretary of commerce and federal loan administrator; Undersecretary of State Welles; Undersecretary of Navy Forrestal; General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff; William S. Knudsen, production specialist of the National Defense Commission; Assistant Secretary of War Patterson; Herbert Feist, economic adviser of the state department, also attended.

Whatever else was discussed, it apparently had a close link with the whole question of British financial resources and her ability to buy war materials in this country.

This financial question, it was authoritatively reported, was a major topic although the meeting was not for the purpose of considering whether the United States should advance money to help Britain.

While not connecting the matter with yesterday's special meeting, the New York Herald Tribune reported today, however, that the subject of a British loan already had been advanced.

The newspaper said that Mariner S. Eccles, chairman of the board of governors of the Federal Reserve System, had proposed at a private New York meeting last week that the United States make Britain a $2,500,000,000 loan, the security to be a lien on the British empire's gold production for the next five years.

Eccles, the newspaper said, spoke in personal rather than of official capacity when he suggested the loan to a gathering of bankers, industrialists and economists.

Nazis Use More Oil
London, Dec. 4 (AP)—Hugh Dalton, minister of economic warfare, said today that Germany now was using more oil than she was producing because Royal Air Force bombers had attacked 90 per cent of her refineries and 80 per cent of her oil plants.

Bombers for Britain

The speedup of production of warplanes for Britain brought this array of bombers to Floyd Bennett airport on Long Island. The planes were flown from California factories and will be dismantled for shipment. Single rudder planes are Douglas DB7A bombers; double ruddered ships are Lockheed Hudsons. Uncamouflaged plane in the foreground is to go to South Africa for commercial airplane service.

Hauck Brewery Site Will Not Be Location for Gas Service Station

Nitrate Conspiracy Charged Against 29 Corporations

Du Pont Company Named Among Firms by U. S. Grand Jury; Writes Name Foreigners

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—A worldwide chain of conspiracies to control and monopolize the price of nitrogen, nitrate of soda and other nitrates used in the production of munitions was charged by a federal grand jury today against 29 corporations including the E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Company.

A series of six Sherman anti-trust act indictments handed up to Federal Judge William Bondy named, in addition to the corporations, 66 individuals—officers, directors and employees of the corporations.

The nitrates which the defendants allegedly conspired to control are used in agriculture, the operation of steel mills, gas plants, water works and other industries connected with national defense in addition to production of munitions.

Named with the du Pont Company, among others, were the Allied Chemical and Dye Corporation, of New York; Chilcan Nitrate Sales Corporation, Synthetic Nitrogen Products Corporation, the Barrett Company, of New York and the Soivay Process Company, of Syracuse, N. Y.

The indictments charge that the alleged conspiracies existed through restrictive and secret contracts with producers and marketers of various nitrates throughout the United States and in other countries including Norway, Britain, Switzerland, Germany, Canada, Sweden, Poland, Belgium, Japan and Chile.

'Toys and Ice Cream'

Kingston's juvenile femininity has evened the score for Santa Claus. Today's vote is that of Betty Anne Hyatt, of 28 Janet street, who yesterday recorded her third birthday with a ballot for Saint Nick. Betty Anne's demand is for "lots of toys and ice cream."

James E. Connelly Gives Denial to Charges His Vote Influenced by Personal Affairs

Tuesday night the Common Council refused to amend the city's zoning law to permit the erection of a $9,000 gas station on the site of the old Hauck brewery which is being torn down. By a vote of seven to six the council rejected the report of its laws and rules committee recommending that the Hauck brewery property be placed in the business zone.

The committee report was rejected despite a warning from Mayor C. J. Heiselman that unless the unpaid taxes on the Hauck plant were collected the city might be "unable to pay its pay rolls during the month of December."

Houghtaling Statement

The vote on the Hauck brewery report was marked by the reading of a lengthy statement by Alderman Houghtaling of the Fourth ward in which he said that he was "undecided whether to attach any significance to the fact that the attorney who is the spearhead in the effort to put this application across is a relative of the chairman of the laws and rules committee. This type of teamwork is not to the liking of many of those in opposition to this application."

Connelly Replies

Alderman James E. Connelly of the Ninth ward, chairman of the laws and rules committee, in reply to Alderman Houghtaling, said that the alderman from the Fourth ward did not know what he was talking about when he accused him of exerting pressure on this or any other petition brought before the committee.

Alderman-at-Large John J. Schwenk also defended Alderman Connelly, stating he was an efficient member of the committee and had never exerted pressure on any matter brought before the committee.

Speaks in Opposition

Alderman Walter Donnaruma of the Sixth ward also spoke in opposition to the report, as did Alderman Wolf of the Seventh ward, who suggested that the site of the brewery be used as a parking ground for the cars of those who attended church services as it would take a large number of cars off the street, which was heavily traveled.

The mayor's warning that city employees might not be paid during December if unpaid taxes were not collected was contained in the following communication addressed to President Schwenk and read by City Clerk E. J. Dempsey at the meeting:

December 3, 1940.
Honorable John J. Schwenk,
President of the Common Council,
Kingston, New York

Dear John:

Before the council votes on whether or not to save the unpaid taxes accrued on the Hauck Brewery, I ask you to convey to the members the following information:

We will have to pay out in cash the following amounts during the balance of this month:

Pay rolls ..... $40,767.00

War Has Cut Traffic On River to Albany

War has had its effect upon the usual traffic up and down the Hudson river of large ocean going freighters and the Port of Albany has registered but 63 incoming and 74 outgoing ships during the last 11 months bound for foreign trade.

Last year 180 ships entered the port and 171 cleared in foreign trade. Closing of the Montreal shipping port for the winter is expected to stimulate the grain export now from Albany. Most of the British shipments of wheat have been routed through the St. Lawrence river this year.

More Stop Signs Sought for City

Proposed Changes in Laws About Traffic Asked of Common Council

Several proposed changes in traffic regulations, including parking and the erection of additional full stop signs, was made to the Common Council Tuesday night by the traffic control committee.

The report of the committee was adopted by unanimous vote.

The report stated that the committee has considered the various matters referred to it, and recommend the following:

That a full stop sign be installed at intersection of Washington avenue and Main street, to stop traffic proceeding in a northerly and southerly direction.

That a full stop sign be installed at the intersection of Downs street and Tremper avenue; thereby stopping traffic passing through Downs street in both directions.

That the westerly side of Crown street, from John street to North Front street be closed to parking; also Main street, from Clinton avenue to Fair street, and that there be no parking on the northerly side of West Strand, from Canal street to the Company Office hill, and on the easterly side of Crown street, from John street to Lucas street.

That no parking be allowed on the northerly side of North Front street for a distance of 30 feet from the crosswalk at the intersection of Washington avenue and North Front street.

That there be no parking on the easterly side of Broadway from the Strand to Mill street; and that half-hour parking be permitted on the westerly side of Clinton avenue from a point 30 feet south of Main street to a point 30 feet north of Pearl street.

Chief of Police Charles Phinney sent in a recommendation to the council that parking on the southerly side of Thomas street be prohibited, owing to the fact that there was considerable traffic of buses through that street.

The recommendation was referred to the traffic control committee.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—The position of the treasury December 2: Receipts $26,531,596.93. Expenditures $31,268,752.67. Net balance $1,811,166,325.38. Working balance included $1,062,418,524.73. Customs receipts for month $1,339,966.13. Receipts for fiscal year (July 1) $2,216,716,934.75. Expenditures $4,038,667,219.76. Excess of expenditures $1,827,950,284.41. Gross debt $44,275,501,618.15. Increase over previous day $2,725,297.24. Gold assets $21,814,903,261.18.

Greeks Press Italians at Edda And Argirocastro; Three Anglo Warships Torpedoed by Italy

Rome Communique Fails to Say Whether Ships Were Sunk After Attack 'Troops Hold'

Italians Say Troops Hold Against Greeks in Albania

Rome, Dec. 4 (AP)—The torpedoing of three British warships—two cruisers by torpedo-launching planes which raided the British base at Suda Bay, on the Greek island of Crete, and a destroyer by a submarine in the Atlantic—was reported today by the Fascist high command.

The daily communique failed to say whether the ships were sunk, or to give the time of the raid on Suda Bay, where the British are believed to have established one of their main Mediterranean bases since they went to the aid of Greece. The attack on the destroyer was said to have occurred December 1.

On the Albanian battlefield, the high command declared, Italian troops held their positions against heavy Greek attacks supported by artillery fire.

Counter-Attacks Reported

In some sectors, the Italians were reported to have counter-attacked.

The high command communique said "enemy" planes bombed Elbasani, 20 miles south of the Albanian capital, Tirana, killing four persons.

The communique acknowledged damage to the Somali port of Aulula on the Gulf of Aden from a bombardment by a British cruiser November 29.

The day's bulletin from the Albanian front said "renewed attacks by numerous enemy formations with considerable artillery preparation and support have been held in check by tenacious resistance" of the Italian troops, "who have even vigorously counter-attacked."

Italian planes were said to have supported the Fascist troops by "concentrating violent bombardments" especially on the sector west of Erseka, in the central fighting front.

Italian planes attacked the Greek ports of Preveza and San Maura (on the island of Levkas) and shot down six Greek planes over Tirana, the communique reported.

It said the aircraft reported downed in flames at the Albanian capital were PZL (Polish) planes being used by the Greek air corps.

The Italian communique said three Italian planes failed to return.

Of the fighting at sea, the communique said:

"Torpedo-launching planes torpedoed two British cruisers in Suda Bay (at the Greek island of Crete)."

"In East Africa, an enemy cruiser opened fire on works at Aulula (Somali land) November 29, causing some damage, but no casualties."

"One of our submarines torpedoed an enemy destroyer in the Atlantic December 1."

Pipelines Are Expropriated

Rumanian Premier Ion Antonescu's Decree Hits Hardest at Standard Oil Holdings; Decree Hits Ships

Bucharest, Dec. 4 (AP)—Premier General Ion Antonescu of Rumania decreed today the expropriation of all oil pipelines, pumping stations, reservoirs and all real estate on which they are situated.

One of the companies hardest hit by the decree was the Romano Americano, owned by Standard Oil. It has several hundred thousand dollars invested in property which will be expropriated.

A second decree ordered seizure of all Danube barges, tugs, tankers and seagoing ships owned and used by companies with Jewish stockholders.

It was pointed out that this will enable Antonescu to seize American and British companies' properties if he wishes, since they have Jewish stockholders.

The companies under the decrees will be reimbursed over 25 years, being paid by bonds bearing three per cent interest.

An official announced that daily oil production in Rumania had dropped since summer from 1,700 to 1,400 tank cars a day. The official reason given for this was the inability to transport the full production, but informed quarters said the disorders in Rumania were mainly responsible.

Both Cities Expected to Collapse Soon as Greeks Gain Added Ground

Planes Are Active

Greek Air Force Raids Italian Columns in Two Regions

Athens, Dec. 4 (AP)—Greek forces were reported today to be pressing hard against the Italian defenses of Porto Edda and Argirocastro, Albania, where resistance was said to be collapsing with capture of both cities expected at any moment.

Earlier a Greek spokesman declared that Fascist troops were falling back fast in the region of Porto Edda, the Italians' southernmost port of entry into Albania, and that Greek advance units were within a mile and a quarter of the city.

(The Italian high command, however, declared today that its troops held their positions against heavy, artillery-supported attacks and in some sectors had counter-attacked.)

Other Greek forces, at the opposite end of the Albanian battlefield, were said to be driving steadily through snow-blanketed mountains toward Elbasani and the Albanian capital, Tirana.

In the area of Argirocastro, Greek artillery was said to have neutralized Italian resistance by placing under fire the road running northeast from Porto Edda inland.

North of the Ostrovitz mountains in the central sector new positions were said to have been occupied by the Greeks in their counter-invasion of Albania. An Athens spokesman said they set up field pieces and shelled Italian emplacements.

Heavy and medium bombers of the Greeks were reported as actively yesterday, facilitating ground operations. They were said to have bombed heavily Italian columns and other Fascist targets in the Berat and Valona areas, despite a strong opposition.

Other bomber formations attacked Fascist camps near Elbasani and in the valley of the Shkumbi river, which runs past Elbasani to the sea. Hits were described as of "great importance," and all Greek aircraft were said to have returned safely to bases.

The British Royal Air Force said its toll of Italian planes mounted. An RAF communique declared:

"Reports received confirm that, in addition to two Italian aircraft destroyed by our bomber and fighter formations Dec. 2, two other enemy aircraft also were shot down. In the Premeti area our fighters intercepted two reconnaissance aircraft and they were destroyed."

The spokesman also credited the Greeks with new gains in their efforts to encircle Argirocastro—about 20 miles northeast of Porto Edda—and said heights northeast of Libohova, six miles southeast of Argirocastro, had been seized from the Italians.

The high command's communique on action at the opposite end of the battlefield—in the push toward Elbasani—said only:

"In the Pogradetz region, we captured new heights after fierce fighting. Prisoners were taken, and automatic weapons, Howitzers, and three guns fell into our hands."

The spokesman, describing operations in that sector, declared the Greek right wing pushed forward despite snow and bad weather northwest of Moskopoli, dislodging Italians from heights there.

(Dispatches from the Yugoslav frontier indicated the Greeks had reached the Devol valley northwest of Moskopoli, which would put them within 40 miles of Elbasani.)

(Reports from the same sources last night said another column had driven Italian Bersagliero troops from Mumlushita, just north of Pogradetz, which would put this drive within 45 miles of Elbasani by road.)

In the center of the battlefield, near Premeti, the Greeks were reported to have cut to pieces one of Italy's picked companies, and then captured two officers and "what was left" of the company.

The spokesman said Greeks on this front also seized the plateau of Platovouni, crushing "strong enemy resistance."

Greek communique said civilians were killed in Italian bombings of Preveza, Philatra, and the island of Levkas, and that Greek planes "successfully bombed columns and strongholds behind the enemy lines."

A Reuters' British news agency dispatch from London quoted the Athens radio as saying 600 persons had been killed and 800 "wounded" in Italian air raids on "undefended" towns and villages in the first month of the Greek-Italian conflict.

East Has Record Cold, Pacific Has Heat Wave

Atlantic Seaboard's Frigid Blasts Roll Out to Sea; Midwest Gets Higher Temperatures; California Has Bad Influenza Epidemic

(By The Associated Press)

The first cold wave of the month moved seaward today with a paring slap at the eastern states.

Arctic blasts pushed the mercury to record lows for the date in New York state today and to sub-zero marks at many New England points.

Rising temperatures brought relief to the middle west after a frigid spell that saw records fall in many parts of the midland areas twenty and thirty below readings were reported in Minnesota and Wisconsin.

At 2 a. m. today the temperature at Albany dropped to four below, the coldest for the date since 1906, when the mercury touched zero. Other New York temperatures, all records for the date, were: Tub Mountain -26, Glens Falls -21, Lake George -19, Saratoga Springs -15, Oneonta -8, Poughkeepsie -1. New York city's 10 above equalled the record low for the date.

Boston shivered in its coldest weather of the year when the mercury fell to six above zero. The previous low was eight above—way back on January 20.

Cauliflower Blighted
The cold wave ended Long Island's most productive cauliflower season, ruining several thousand crates of a record 1,500,000 crop. Tankers were advised to move out of the freezing Penobscot river in Maine. Four naval reserve vessels were frozen in by six inch ice at Sturgeon Bay, Wis.

Sub-freezing temperatures prevailed throughout Pennsylvania. Zoro weather was forecast for the western section. Snow ranging up to 20 inches handicapped Pennsylvania deer hunters, two of whom were reported lost. Snow drifts measured six feet in the mountain regions.

Early morning temperatures in Connecticut ranged from seven to 10 above. Bridgeport experienced its coldest Dec. 3 in 14 years yesterday—eight above.

A low of six above at Cleveland early today was the coldest for the date since 1871. The cold wave touched the northern fringe of the south yesterday. It was 15 above at Bristol, Tenn.-Va.

A 70 year record for Dec. 3 was broken at Duluth when the mercury touched 19 below zero. Chicago's five below was an all time record for the date there.

Yesterday's temperature range in the nation was 132 degrees. It was 38 below zero in Pigeon Falls, Wis., and 94 above in Tarzana, Calif. Los Angeles had a reading advance.

Protest Is Made Against Diversion of Money From State Rail Crossing Elimination Fund

Mayor C. J. Heiselman has addressed a letter to the governor of the state and other state officials protesting against the proposed diversion of $60,000,000 from the state railroad grade crossing fund to the state department of public works for the construction of highways and parkways. It was disclosed Tuesday evening at the meeting of the Common Council when a communication from the mayor was received and read.

The mayor in his communication to the aldermen recommended that the council adopt a resolution requesting the state officials to oppose the adoption of the concurrent resolution to divert the funds.

The Mayor's Letter
The mayor's communication to the Common Council read as follows:

To the Honorable Common Council, Kingston, New York.
Gentlemen:
I attach hereto copy of a letter which I have addressed, under date of November 27th, to the Governor, the Majority Leader of the Senate and the Speaker of the Assembly, protesting against the proposed diversion of $60,000,000 from the State railroad grade

Hauck Site Not To House Gasoline Service Station

Bills .....	43,500.00
To Board of Education for pay rolls and bills .....	15,000.00
Total cash required for December .....	99,267.00
Cash on hand in general fund to pay the above pay rolls and bills ..	27,862.96

Amount required to be collected during December if city is to pay all pay rolls and bills .....

There are at present outstanding in unpaid general taxes the sum of $54,507.00.

In that amount is included about $6,500.00 in taxes on the O. & W. Railroad Company which we are restrained from collecting by reason of a court order served on us by the federal court because the railroad is in receivership.

The unpaid taxes on the Hauck Brewery are also included in the unpaid taxes.

In addition to the unpaid taxes, there were certain reductions in cash receipts of anticipated revenues because the amounts received were lower than those anticipated. The principal item under this heading is the $8,500.00 in bank taxes which we expected to receive but which were voted away from the city by the state government. Other shrinkages in revenues have been as follows:

Corporation franchise tax .....	$3,100.00
Personal income tax .....	355.20
Beverage taxes .....	700.00
Fees and interest on taxes .....	1,500.00
Auditorium rent .....	2,600.00
Stadium rent .....	1,000.00
Sale of city property .....	800.00
Meat inspection fees .....	360.00

Total .....

When this shrinkage of $9,815.20 in revenues is added to the $54,507.00 in unpaid taxes, we have a total of $64,322.00 in cash which the city expected to receive in 1940 and which it has not received.

In view of this fact, it is very important that the unpaid taxes on the Hauck Brewery be collected. I call this matter to the attention of the aldermen so that they and their constituents will know on whom to place the responsibility if by reason of action taken by the council tonight the city is prevented from collecting unpaid taxes on the brewery property and by reason thereof is unable to pay its pay rolls during the month of December.

Yours truly,

C. J. HEISELMAN, Mayor.

Houghtaling's Statement

Alderman Houghtaling opposing the adoption of the report read the following prepared statement:

The city of Kingston has enacted what is known as the Zoning Law. It has a definite object and purpose. In establishing a residential and business section, these sections have been laid out after serious and lengthy consideration by competent officials of the city. Persons owning properties in residential sections, now have every reason to believe that under this law, their properties shall be protected from the encroachment of objectionable business. The question before us tonight concerns an application permitting construction of a gas station on the site of the present Hauck Brewery. As you all know, Hauck Brewery is located on the corner of McEntee street and Wurts street. At this time, there is a gas station on Wurts street and that present existing gas station is directly across on the opposite corner from the Hauck Brewery corner.

Wurts street has long been known as the street of churches. On this street consisting of approximately five short blocks, there are and have been for years, five churches. In near proximity are three more churches. Practically all denominations are represented in the churches on this street. This street is one of the outstanding sections of the city of Kingston and no business has ever approached upon it above West Union street.

The present station existing at Wurts street and McEntee street is recognized as a property on McEntee street. That station was established and doing business before the Zoning Law was enacted.

The churches, parishes, neighbors and property owners and rent payers in the immediate vicinity of this proposed gas station site have filed with the city authorities their objections to any amendment which will permit the Hauck property to be used for gas station purposes. Since their property under the Zoning Law were placed in residential sections or residential districts they are entitled to protection by that law. They are entitled to have that property remain as residential districts to keep business strictly out of those districts and particularly out of that district.

Yesterday, Mayor Heiselman

PRESIDENT OFF FOR CARIBBEAN SEA

Beneath the big guns of the cruiser Tuscaloosa, President Roosevelt waves to Miami, Fla., crowds a short time before the ship shoved off and headed for the Caribbean Sea. At his right stands Brig. Gen. E. M. Watson, a presidential secretary, and Rear Admiral Ross T. McIntyre, all of them surrounded by secret service men. The Chief Executive indicated that he himself had only a general idea of where he will go.

filed with the council by the owner of the property did not contain the necessary number of signatures as required by the zoning law.

For that reason the present method was taken to amend the law by resolution of the common council. The fact that the owner of the property had been unable to obtain the necessary number of signatures showed that the people in the vicinity of the property did not want the zoning law changed.

In addition to that, said Alderman Monroe, the tax problem was injected into the picture. At the public hearing held by the committee on the resolution last week the largest number who appeared at the hearing were opposed to any change in the zoning law. The objectors filed a petition opposing the change which was signed by some 42 of the adjoining property owners.

The problem before the council, he said, was a serious one, affecting not only the small area surrounding the brewery but the entire city; it affects the fundamental rights of every citizen of the city.

"When the zoning law was adopted the city made a covenant with the people," he said. "The question, he said, was whether the rights of the people were to be infringed upon to collect some $8,000 in unpaid taxes. Regardless of the fact whether the erection of a gas station would be beneficial or not, he said, as he understood the law the property owners interested had the right to object and they had objected.

"If this zoning change is approved," said Alderman Monroe, "we will establish a precedent affecting the entire city."

Alderman Monroe in closing urged the aldermen to reject the majority report of the committee.

Zucca Explains

Alderman Zucca said he desired to explain his vote. He said he had been a member of the council for a number of years and during that time he had found that all the committees in submitting reports had given the reports considerable attention. He said that he was voting in favor of adoption of the report.

Connelly Replies

Alderman Connelly in explaining his vote on the report said that "Alderman Houghtaling in a lengthy prepared statement has accused me of bringing pressure to bear in this matter. He does not know what he is talking about when he makes that accusation in this or any other matter that has been brought before the laws and rules committee while I have been a member of that committee."

"The first of the year," continued Alderman Connelly, "I asked the chair to relieve me of the duties of chairman of the laws and rules committee, but my request was not granted. In the years that I have served as chairman of this committee I have never attempted to influence any member of the committee to submit a report to my own ideas on the subject. When Alderman Houghtaling makes such an accusation he is talking at random. There is not an alderman in this room who can say that I have ever attempted to put the pressure on."

Schwenk Comments
President Schwenk in commenting publicly the work of Alderman Connelly as chairman of the committee said that he had proven an efficient member of the committee, and it was for that reason that he had refused to entertain the request of Alderman Connelly to be relieved of the duties of chairman. Alderman Schwenk emphasized that Alderman Connelly had not been influenced by the fact that his son, Attorney James G. Connelly, had represented petitioners before the laws and rules committee.

Alderman Schwenk asked Alderman Houghtaling if he had not seconded the resolution that had brought the question of amending the zoning law before the council, and the alderman from the Fourth ward replied that was true. He had also signed the call for the special meeting when the resolution was introduced.

Alderman Donnaruma also had signed the call for the meeting.

The report of the majority members of the laws and rules committee was signed by Alderman James E. Connelly, Alderman Clarence R. Robertson and President John J. Schwenk. The other member of the committee, Alderman Monroe, did not sign the majority report.

The report in brief recommended that the zoning ordinance be amended to make the proposed change effective.

How They Voted

The vote on the laws and rules committee report follows:
For adoption—Aldermen Zucca, Forman, Robertson, Fox, Connelly and Garon.

For rejection—Aldermen Houghtaling, Donnaruma, Wolf, Monroe, Renn, Cornwell and Jordan.

Fright Snatched Morale Of Armies for Centuries

Fright in the present European conflict, as excited by propaganda, by the use of flame-throwing devices, by the shriek of dive bombers and other instruments designed to shatter the morale of the enemy, is about as old as warfare itself.

When Julius Caesar landed his forces in England in 54 B. C., he found the Britons in a war paint of dark blue that gave them an awesome appearance, the National Geographical society points out. "Even Caesar said the effect was terrifying. This practice of painting the face and body in ghastly colors was common to many warlike tribes, including American Indians.

Attempts to frighten the enemy were often designed also to vanquish a warrior's own fear. The war whoop of the Indian was probably thus dual in its effect, supplementing the war dance, which was definitely to arouse the emotions of the Indian to abandon in battle.

When the Irish of the Sixteenth century attacked invading English forces, the woods would ring with their frightful war cry, described as "Ooboooboo." This cry was later translated into no worse a word than "hubbub."

Early helmets in the form of animal heads, such as a lion's head with the teeth grinning at the enemy from the forehead of a warrior, were doubtless worn to unnerv the enemy; they were followed by helmets with horns of goats and other animals; later replaced by brass horns. Some weapons used by savages are thought to have been designed as much to strike terror in the enemy, and to give increased confidence to the wielder, as for utilitarian purposes.

The Maoris of New Zealand, among the most warlike of savage tribes, added to their gruesomeness by making faces at the enemy in battle. Grimacing was a military art studied by the young warriors. Their war canoes, some carrying 100 warriors, had on the prow carved human heads with hideous faces.

'Accept Responsibilities,' Business Men Are Urged

A good many men in business and finance learned in the distressing decade of the 30s that they have to look past the end of the ledger or further than the last quotation in the bond table if they are to be intelligent Americans. Some of them always knew this. Probably E. A. Pierce of the large financial house including his name is one of these. Anyway, he talks some fine common sense when he says: "We have a genuine responsibility to that third of our people who have been getting the hardest knocks. We should be honest enough to admit that whatever we can do to improve the status of this segment of our population will be frankly good business. It is this third of our people who constitute the greatest potential market for the nation's mass consumption of goods. Whatever improves their ability to consume, and thus their standard of living, also improves the market for the goods that business produces and distributes, and thereby the value of securities invested in such enterprises."

Safety Belts in Autos

Safety belts in automobiles has been advocated by Dr. Ralph Greene of Coral Gables, Fla., as a means of preventing deaths and serious injuries. He claims he has been saved from serious injury on several occasions because of a tightly fitted airplane safety belt. Dr. Green says that it is worthy of note that those who, as a matter of exhibition work crash automobiles, rolling them over, etc., are seldom subjected to even the slightest injury because they equip themselves with safety belts. He believes that if the 30,000 people killed annually and the 150,000 seriously injured each year had been equipped with safety belts, it is probable that few deaths and few cases of serious injury would have been recorded. "I am inclined to believe," he says, "that if automobiles were required or encouraged to use an airplane type of seat belt, deaths and serious injuries would become the exception rather than the rule."

Davis Is Chosen Association Head

Kerkhouson Resident Is Re-elected to Office

Millard H. Davis of Kerkhouson, president of the Ulster County Farm, Home Bureau and 4-H Club Association since its organization and previous to that for years president of the Farm Bureau, was again elected president of the association at the annual meeting Tuesday night. The meeting, at which there was an attendance of around 70 members, was held at the county building on John street.

Mrs. Hugh Ferguson of Lake Katrine was again named vice-president of the association and E. W. Hathaway, another veteran official, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Directors for three years, re-elected to represent the 4-H Club organization, are Mrs. Raphael Klein, Ulster Park; Miss Harriet Thomas, Flatbush; John H. Saxe, West Hurley.

Directors for three years, representing the Farm and Home Bureaus, are named by these organizations separately. The Farm Bureau named Arthur W. Kurtz of New Paltz; W. T. Jenkins of Clintondale, and L. B. Davis of Olive Bridge. Following a previous agreement to name one new director each year, dropping the director who has had the longest term of service and whose term expires, the Farm Bureau named Mr. Kurtz in place of Fred DuBois of New Paltz.

Named Home Bureau directors for three years, all being new members of the board, were Mrs. Alice VanLaeer, High Falls; Mrs. Howard A. Lewis, Kingston; Mrs. Arnold, Modena.

A meeting of the executive board was held at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and at 6 o'clock the board members were guests at a dinner served by the older group of the 4-H Club.

C. C. DuMond, president of the Farm Bureau, presided at the annual meeting in the evening, in the absence of Mr. Davis, and gave the departmental report for the Farm Bureau. The Home Bureau report was given by Mrs. George Adams of Mt. Marion, and Pratt Boice reported for the 4-H Clubs.

Reports showed a most satisfactory condition on the part of the various departments of the association. The Home Bureau reported a membership of 422 as against 386 last year and the Farm Bureau reported a paid-up membership to date of 642, about the same as last year, but with prospects of further additions that will bring the total for 1941 into the gain column. The 4-H Club reported a present membership of 576, a gain of 68 members over last year.

Treasurer Hathaway reported a small balance on hand in the treasury of each of the departments.

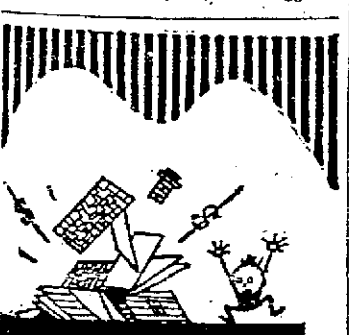

Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Crowell of Wallkill and E. R. Ewer of Kingston reported on the federation convention held in Syracuse recently, which they attended as delegates from the three departments. There was considerable comment on the action taken by that body in naming C. C. DuMond as president at the State Federation for the coming year, and Mr. DuMond was heartily congratulated on the honor that had been given him and through him to Ulster county.

Allen, member of the home bureau board; Mrs. M. Powell of Lake Katrine, Mrs. A. DuBois Rose, chairman; Mrs. J. Cuff, who gave the demonstration and Mrs. C. Seligman.

House Burns Down Before Completion

The gas station of George Beecher, about a mile north of Sawkill, and his nearly completed residence adjoining, were destroyed by fire early Sunday morning. The top of his automobile, which was in the garage built in the basement of the house, also was burned off.

The fire is supposed to have started with a small oil stove left burning in the gas station and when discovered about six o'clock Sunday morning had spread to the house, which was in flames. The house, a two-story dwelling, was nearing completion and work on it would have been finished in a week or so.

Reports showed a most satisfactory condition on the part of the various departments of the association. The Home Bureau reported a membership of 422 as against 386 last year and the Farm Bureau reported a paid-up membership to date of 642, about the same as last year, but with prospects of further additions that will bring the total for 1941 into the gain column. ## Man Sentenced On Two Charges

One Preferred by Wife; Other for Theft

Charles Rudolph of 199 Greenkill avenue, faced Judge Raymond Mino in police court this morning on two charges; one preferred by his wife charging him with disorderly conduct and the other a charge of petit larceny in the theft of a radio from the Light-nings store here.

On the disorderly charge Rudolph was sentenced to 30 days in jail. On the petit larceny charge he was fined $30 or sentenced to serve 30 days. He said he would take the jail sentence, and as a result will serve 60 days.

James P. Dwyer of Newburgh, charged with parking on a crosswalk, forfeited $5 bail he had posted.

Otto Grossman of Shokan was fined $10 on a petit larceny charge, and the payment of the fine was suspended. He was accused of stealing merchandise from the Sears Roebuck store.

Tulsa Coach Resigns

Tulsa, Dec. 4 (AP).—Tulsa University's campus are looking for a mentor to lead the golden hurricane next season. Chet Benefield resigned under fire yesterday, just ten days after Tulsa annexed the championship of the Missouri Valley conference.

There was even some mention that the conference title was hosed. Didn't the same thing happen to Jimmy Conzelmann of Washington University up at St. Louis last year? Yep, it did. Conzelmann's team won the title. There was a disagreement over policy or some such matter, and wham! Conzelmann was out.

Lazzari Signs Contract

San Francisco, Dec. 4 (AP).—Tony Lazzari, one of the stars of the New York Yankees, when Babe Ruth was belting baseballs out of every field, was signed today to play second base for the San Francisco Seals of the Pacific Coast League. Lazzari is in excellent physical condition despite his 37 years. Last season he managed Toronto of the International League.

To Play It Out

New York, Dec. 4 (AP).—The Long Island Indians and the New York Yankees, who played an extra game last Sunday to break their tie for fourth place in the American pro football association and wound up in a scoreless tie, will try again at Freeport, L. I., tomorrow with an added provision for a "sudden death" period, if it becomes necessary. Club officials decided that if they're tied at the end of the regular playing time, they'll continue until one team scores. The winner will go into the league playoffs next Sunday against Jersey City.

Fire in Siding Damages House

Box Alarm Is Sounded for Rice Residence

Fire in the siding of the house at 43 Clinton avenue, owned and occupied by William Rice, caused an alarm to be turned in from Box 1241, shortly after 11 o'clock this morning.

According to the fire department the fire was caused by an inadequate installation of a smoke pipe of the heating plant. The fire burned up the siding of the house, but did not reach the second floor. The fire was brought under control without much damage to the house.

Shortly after 7 o'clock this morning the fire department received a telephone call for a fire in the house of Thomas Murray on Clinton avenue adjoining the Rice house. A smoke pipe off the kitchen range became overheated. There was no damage.

To De-emphasize Game

Macon, Ga., Dec. 4 (AP).—Mercer University has decided to de-emphasize inter-collegiate football and put the athletic director's salary on a level with collegiate professors. The trustees of the Baptist School (enrollment 450-odd) revamped the athletic program yesterday "to give football back to the students." The new plan stresses student body physical education and puts athletic scholarships under joint control of faculty and trustee committees. Mercer officials have been seeking to form

Welfare Department Needs $2,500 for Hospital Service

Communication Is Sent to Common Council Recommending Sum Be Appropriated

During the remainder of the year the welfare department of the city requires an additional $2,500 to provide hospital service to the needy, and Mayor C. J. Heislman in a communication to the Common Council Tuesday night recommended that the amount be appropriated from the Utility Tax Relief Fund.

The mayor's letter and also a communication from William H. Grogan, president of the welfare department, follows:

December 2, 1940

To the Honorable Common Council, Kingston, New York.

Gentlemen:

Attached hereto is a communication from the Department of Public Welfare, dated November 30, 1940, requesting that $2,500.00 be appropriated from the Utility Tax Relief Fund, received during the last half of 1940, to the hospitalization account to provide hospital service to the needy sick during November and December, 1940.

The letter from the department is self-explanatory. I therefore recommend to your honorable body that the sum of $2,500.00 be appropriated from the Utility Tax Relief Fund to the Department of Public Welfare to provide care for the needy sick during November and December, 1940.

Very truly yours,
C. J. Heislman
Mayor

November 30, 1940
The Honorable Body, Common Council, City of Kingston, N. Y.
Gentlemen:

The appropriation of $12,000.00 made in the 1940 budget for hospital care for the needy has been entirely expended and this department estimates that it will require an additional appropriation of $2,500.00 to pay for hospital care during the months of November and December, 1940.

When last year's budget was made up only $12,000.00 was included for hospitalization with the understanding that if additional funds were needed at the end of the year, a portion of the public utility tax receipts could be appropriated for hospitalization in the same manner as last year.

We therefore request your Honorable Body to appropriate from the Utility Tax Relief Fund the sum of $2,500.00 to the Department of Public Welfare and placed to the credit of the hospitalization fund to pay the cost of hospital care for the needy during the months of November and December, 1940.

This will make total appropriations of $14,500.00 for hospital care for the year 1940 as compared with $20,560.00 expended for the same purpose in 1939, a decrease of $6,060.00.

Very truly yours,
Department of Public Welfare,
W. H. Grogan
President

Surgical Dressing Work Schedule to Be Changed

Because of the State Grange convention which will be held in Kingston during the week of December 9, it has been found necessary to change the dates of the Red Cross surgical dressings work which is carried on at the municipal auditorium each Tuesday and Thursday.

The surgical dressing rooms will be closed December 11 and 12 but will be open the following week on Tuesday and Thursday, December 17 and 19. The rooms will again be closed because of the holidays December 24, 26 and 31. Regular work will begin again Thursday, January 2, and will continue each Tuesday and Thursday as usual during the winter.

Orchestra at School 5 Organized as Club Project

School No. 5 is one of the few schools to boast an elementary school orchestra. The orchestra was organized in conjunction with other club activities of the school and is under the direction of Miss Eleanor Lawatsch. The group will appear in its second public performance Tuesday, December 10, for the Parent-Teacher Association meeting. They will play "Sharpshooter's March," by G. Metalo, "Skater's Waltz," by E. Waldeufel and "Jingle Bells," by J. Pierpont. Members of the orchestra are seated, left to right, William Boyle, Emil Eptand, Edward Ward, Kathryn Smith, Sully Norton, Ann Jean Donerty and Janet Schulze. Standing, left to right are Donald Quick, Raymond Schuler, Ronald Kent, Charles McGinnis, Harry Kapreilian, Charles Marable, William Robertson, Bruce Decker, Dorothy Shelley, Betty LaTour and Doris Barnum.

GIFT IDEAS FOR MEN AND BOYS

MARIAN MARTIN
PATTERN 9572

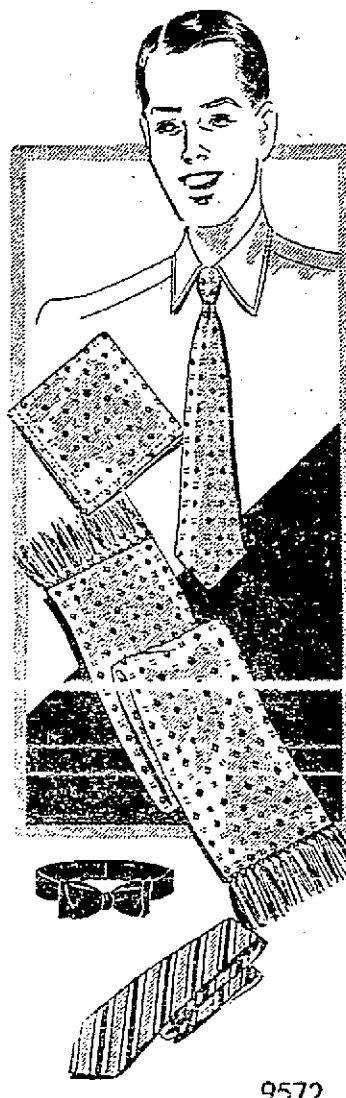

What a "gifted" idea for the holidays—these gay accessories for men and boys! Pattern 9572 by Marian Martin includes a four-in-hand and a bow-tie for a man, a handkerchief and a scarf, and a boy's tie. Each article is quick-as-a-flash to make and sure to be appreciated by the big or little man who receives it. Have the man's four-in-hand tie, handkerchief and scarf all of one fabric for a smart set! If you make the scarf double, the whole set of three will require just 1 1/4 yards of fabric; if the scarf is single, 1 yard will do the trick. The boy's tie fastens in back with a hook and eye so that it needn't be re-tied. This pattern is the perfect answer to your yearly problem: "WHAT shall I give those menfolk?"

Pattern 9572 may be ordered only for boys and men. For individual yardages see pattern.

large cities of the State. If the 1941 Legislature re-passes the concurrent resolution referred to above, and the Governor signs it, it will be put before the voters of the State at a public referendum and it will probably be adopted, because the history of Constitutional amendments indicates that the voters vote in favor of all Constitutional amendments. It would not be surprising, in view of past history, to then find that the metropolitan area of the City of New York would get most of the $60,000,000.00 for highways and parkways. From the financial statement of the grade crossing fund attached hereto, it is apparent that no funds would be available for the elimination of any railroad grade crossings in Kingston.

I therefore recommend that your honorable body by resolution request the following public officials to oppose the adoption of the concurrent resolution referred to herein by the 1941 Legislature.

Governor Herbert H. Lehman.
Hon. Joe R. Hanley, Majority Leader of the Senate.

Hon. Oswald D. Heck, Speaker of the Assembly.

Hon. Arthur H. Wicks, Senator, 29th District.

Hon. John W. Wadlin, Assemblyman-elect, Ulster District.

Mayor Heislman's letter of protest which he sent to Governor Lehman, Senator Joseph Hanley and Assemblyman Oswald D. Heck, reads as follows:

"For 25 years this city has suffered from the hazards and delays of its 10 principal railroad grade crossings which have killed and maimed our citizens and delayed the traffic of not only Kingston and the State of New York, but of the United States.

For many years the city of Kingston has been beseeching the State government to rid the city of these dangerous and unsightly crossings, one of which crosses our principal thoroughfare, which is the only through east-west street in the city. On this street traffic is delayed three hours daily because of train crossings.

After all of these years of waiting, the Public Service Commission has at last authorized the State Department of Public Works to prepare a plan for the elimination of that principal grade crossing. And at last, the State Department of Public Works has promised to have this plan ready by the first week in December.

And now when it looks as if at last some action were to be taken by the State, I have received information which indicates that no funds will be available to pay the cost of eliminating the crossing if the concurrent resolution, passed at the request of the Governor by the Legislature in 1940, is passed by the 1941 Legislature, is signed by the Governor and is adopted by the people of the State at public referendum on election day in 1941. This resolution diverts $60,000,000.00 from the grade crossing fund to the State highway fund.

I attach hereto a financial statement, obtained from an authoritative source, showing that, if $60,000,000.00 is diverted from the grade crossing fund to the highway fund there will hardly be sufficient funds on hand in the grade crossing fund to pay for grade crossing elimination projects now under contract or now in the course of construction, and that no funds will be available for the elimination of any railroad grade crossings in Kingston.

While I agree that more money should be spent on the highways of the State, I insist that such money should be taken from the $100,000,000.00 collected from the pockets of motorists in gasoline taxes and motor vehicle license fees, most of which is now being used for purposes other than highways, and it should not be diverted from the fund which was raised to rid the State of dangerous railroad crossings.

The grade crossings in substantially all of the larger cities of the State have already been eliminated or are on the present construction program. To now divert the remaining grade crossing funds to other uses will be a most unjust discrimination against the smaller communities of the State and one which they may be expected to resent.

On behalf of the people of Kingston, I strongly protest against the diversion of grade crossing elimination funds which will prevent the elimination of the crossings in this city, and I urge that you use every effort at your command to bring about the defeat of the proposal to so divert $60,000,000.00 from the grade crossing fund to any other purpose.

Respectfully yours,
C. J. Heislman
Mayor

Loss of $8,500 Will Be Put In 1941 General Tax Budget

Heislman Sends Notice to Council Reporting on Loss of Funds Paid by Banks

Kingston's loss of $8,500 representing the income taxes paid by the banks of the city during 1940, will have to be included in the general tax budget for 1941, it was revealed in a communication by Mayor C. J. Heislman at the Common Council meeting Tuesday evening.

The mayor in his communication said that in order to raise more state revenue to pay the increased cost of state government, the state legislature with the approval of the governor, passed a law taking away from the cities and villages the bank taxes they had been accustomed to receiving.

Mayor Heislman wrote that he had objected to the action taken, and enclosed a letter he had written to the leaders of the legislature on March 14, 1940. The mayor attached a copy of his letter of protest to his communication to the aldermen.

In his communication to the council the mayor recommended that the aldermen voice their objections to this new state policy in order that he might use the resolution as an example to send through the agency of the Mayors' Conference to local legislative bodies throughout the state.

Mayor Heislman's communication to the council and also to the legislative leaders follows:

November 25, 1940
To the Honorable Common Council, Kingston, New York.

Gentlemen:

According to law, for many years the city of Kingston has received annually from the State of New York the amount which the national and state banks of Kingston paid in income taxes. This amount has always been estimated by the city and included among our anticipated revenues, other than real estate taxes. The more of these revenues which the city collects, the less the city must raise by taxes on local real estate.

In accordance with our annual custom, last December, when making up the 1940 budget, we estimated that we would receive $8,500.00 in cash, representing these income taxes to be paid by the banks of Kingston during 1940. In fact, we figured on receiving that $8,500.00 in order to help pay the estimated cost of running the city government for the year 1940.

Last Spring, the Governor and the Legislature became embroiled in a battle to balance the State budget. In order to raise more State revenues to pay the increased cost of State government, the Legislature, with the approval of the Governor, passed a law, taking away from the cities and villages of the State the bank taxes they had been receiving for many years. No attention was paid to the welfare of the cities and villages; no consideration was given to the fact that cities had made up their budgets and had anticipated receiving these bank taxes as usual. The result of this action means that the $8,500.00 which we did not receive as a result of this State action will create a deficit of $8,500.00 in the city's revenues, and this in turn means that the $8,500.00 deficit will have to be carried forward as an expense in the 1941 budget. In other words, we will have to raise by taxation on real estate $8,500.00 to make up the $8,500.00 we expected to receive from bank taxes in 1940 but which the State stole away from us.

I objected very much to this procedure to the leaders of the Legislature, in a letter dated March 14, 1940, copy of which is attached, but to which I have never received a reply.

In 1939, the State stole away from us by a clever legislative trick $7,000.00 in beverage taxes. This $7,000.00 had to be shouldered by the local real estate taxpayers in the 1940 budget.

In my opinion, unless there is a concerted effort made by the real estate taxpayers, the Governor and 1941 Legislature will continue their depredations upon local taxpayers in making up the 1942 State budget. It was only by great pressure exerted by the local communities of the State last year that the State's effort to also confiscate the local communities' share of the State income tax was prevented.

The federal government early in 1940 increased by $3,000,000.00 its allotment of federal funds for aid to dependent children. These funds from the federal government obtain from social security receipts. The purpose of the increase was to relieve the burden on the local taxpayer. It was therefore presumed that the State would increase, in turn, its reimbursement to local communities for support of dependent children. But the State kept the $3,000,000.00 and passed no part of it on to the local communities.

I believe it is high time for local communities to raise up their objections to this State policy of passing on to local real estate the increasing cost of running the State government.

I have sent my objection to the Governor and the Legislative leaders. I recommend that your honorable body also voice your objections to this policy to those charged with making up the State budget, in order that I may use your resolution as an example to send through the agency of the Mayors' Conference to local legislative bodies throughout the State, in an attempt to marshal the forces of local government throughout the State against this pernicious policy which, if carried further, will add to the burden of local real estate beyond its capacity to endure.

Respectfully yours,
C. J. Heislman
Mayor

CHILDREN'S

March 14, 1940
Hon. Joe Hanley, Majority Leader of the Senate, Hon. Oswald D. Heck, Speaker of the Assembly, Albany, New York.

Gentlemen:

The State Legislature has adopted a budget which reduces state aid to municipalities by reducing away bank taxes which cities and villages have been receiving for years. I also understand that the federal government during 1940 will substantially increase its contributions to the State of New York for the cost of aid to dependent children, all of which will be retained by the State and no part of which is to be passed along to cities to help defray the cost of child welfare.

This action on the part of the Legislature means that local real estate taxes must go up. When the State takes away from municipalities their just share of tax revenues, it means that more money must be raised locally, and this means higher real estate taxes.

Our budget for the current year for general city purposes was adopted by the Common Council last January. Among the anticipated revenues was an item of $8,500.00 which we anticipated receiving on the income of local state and national banks. We expected to receive this $8,500.00 during 1940 and we had every reason to expect it, because we have been receiving it annually for years. Because of the action of the Legislature, concurred in by the Governor, in grabbing this $8,500.00 away from us, we will have a deficit of $8,500.00 in our budget at the end of 1940. This deficit will have to be carried forward into next year's budget and placed on the backs of the local real estate taxpayers. I object to this unbalancing municipal budgets all over the state. By a very slight amendment to the A.B.C. law of 1939, the State took away from Kingston approximately $7,000.00 last year in beverage taxes. This caused a deficit in last year's budget and the $7,000.00 had to be carried forward into the 1940 budget and paid for by the taxpayers of Kingston.

It seems ridiculous for the great State of New York to stoop to pilfer a measly four million dollars in bank taxes from the cities and villages to balance the State budget. Why four million is chicken feed compared to the 40 million dollar budget of the State. And that brings up an interesting question. I attach a record of the annual increase in the State budget since 1920. Governor Miller's budget was 145 million; Smith's last budget stepped up to 219 million; Roosevelt's budget climbed to 244 million, but Lehman's budgets have skyrocketed into the 400 millions. Roosevelt is known as the greatest spender of public funds the world has ever known. I have heard both of you gentlemen in speeches assail him from the platform for being a spendthrift with other people's money. And yet, when you have the power to control the State budget, you propose to spend more money to run the State of New York than Roosevelt spent when he was governor.

The following budget figures are most illuminating; they show that since 1922 the State budget has increased 172 percent, while Kingston's budget has increased only 72 percent and Kingston's tax levy has increased only 44 percent:

Year	Amount	Increase
1922	$145,798,000.00
1940	$396,707,000.00	172%

Year	Amount	Increase
1922	706,627.00
1940	1,219,185.00	72%

Year	Amount	Increase
1922	638,237.63
1940	917,925.31	44%

The question I would like to ask is this: If the City of Kingston since 1932 has increased its budget 72% and its tax levy only 44%, why has the cost of State government jumped 172%? Where has 250 million dollars increase in state expenses gone?

That is the question that the Legislature and Governor should find the answer to. After finding the answer, they should act by cutting the cost of government and not by taking away revenues from local communities, thereby simply transferring to local real estate taxpayers the cost of running the State government.

In Kingston, up to the time the State of New York began to steal away our revenues after our budget was adopted, we balanced our budget by eliminating waste and extravagance and by the application of sound business principles to government. That is the only honest way to reduce the cost of government anywhere.

The people of Kingston, by their votes, have approved of balancing budgets the Kingston way. On their behalf, I appeal to you to balance the State budget the Kingston way and not by taking away local revenues and passing the buck to local real estate taxpayers.

If pressure-group government does not soon cease, real estate owners will be compelled in self defense to form the largest and most powerful pressure group that ever stalked the legislative hall at Capitol Hill. When that day comes the end will come for many.

Yours Truly,
C. J. HEISELMAN
Mayor

Ball to Aid Greek War Relief Fund

Greek sufferers in the war zone will be aided by the proceeds from a dance at The Barn Tuesday evening sponsored by the Artemis Club of Kingston. Seven acts will be included on the program to begin at 10 o'clock. Proceeds from the affair will supplement the fund collected by the local Greek community for the aid of the war sufferers.

The floor show will feature the Barbera sisters, a sensational dance team; Rita Miranda and her eight Roselle Rockettes; Ryan and Mackey; Gladys Karr and Carl O'Day; Rembert and Mara, in a rumba specialty, and Jean Monet, celebrated acrobat. Pete Bernard will act as master of ceremonies.

Bible Love Stories Discussed

Old Testament love stories were discussed at Lowell Club Tuesday afternoon by members attending the meeting held at the home of Mrs. J. A. Guttridge on Irving Place. The first paper of the day was by Mrs. Frederick Snyder, who discussed the love stories of Isaac and Rebecca, Jacob and Rachel and David and Michal. Mrs. Guttridge then read the Song of Deborah, prefacing her reading with a review of events leading up to the song. Mrs. James J. Murphy, Jr., closed the afternoon with a discussion of the music inspired by the Bible, reviewing the history of church music and discussing its various types. The club will meet next week with Miss Mary Hale, 13 Orchard street.

Reformed Ladies' Aid Elect

Mrs. Charles Palmer was re-elected president of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Reformed Church at the meeting held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Kathryn Hays on Fair street. Other officers elected were Mrs. Harry B. Walker, first vice president; Mrs. Orlando D. B. Ingalls, second vice president; Mrs. Charles Gobel, third vice president; Mrs. Bruce Van Kleeck, fourth vice president; Miss Ella Bernard, secretary; and Mrs. James Low, treasurer.

Following the business session the members enjoyed a Christmas party. Mrs. Theodore Weeks acted as co-hostess with Mrs. Hays.

60th Wedding Anniversary

Highland, Dec. 4.—The 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilkow was observed with a family party at the home of the bride.

Gathered there were the oldest son, Walter, and his wife and family, Albert, Harold and Miss Irene Wilkow of Torrington, Conn.; daughter, Mrs. Frank DuBois, with her husband and daughters, the Misses Evelyn and Marian DuBois, of Gardiner; Mrs. S. D. Farnham and her husband and son, Frank, of Highland; Fred with his wife and daughter, Miss Freda Wilkow; Albert and his wife and four small sons. Following the dinner Mrs. Minnie Stoddard and son, Rex, of New Paltz, cousins of the couple, and a niece and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Elting, and children of New Paltz called and friends from Hempstead, L. I., and New York drove up for supper. Mr. Wilkow's sister, Mrs. Carrie Ostrander, was also present. The couple received many flowers and cards of congratulations upon the occasion.

Mrs. Wilkow was the former Miss Annie Hasbrouck and since the marriage their home has been on the same farm. Some 10 years after their marriage the present fine home was erected and there they and their children have resided until now.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkow have few affiliations with the interest centered in their home, family and friends. The day was also Mrs. Wilkow's 82nd birthday, making it a double anniversary. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wilkow are most active for their years.

Bishop Pupils' Recital

A group of the piano pupils of Mrs. Bertrand B. Bishop presented a program at Mrs. Bishop's home on Jefferson avenue on Saturday afternoon. The program included "Pilgrim's Chorus" from "Tannhauser" by Wagner; "Golden Star" by Streabog; "The Swing Song" by Erb and an arrangement of a Brahms' waltz, played by Arlene Crow; "Bugle Call" by Van Nort; "Melody," a duet with Ann Page, and "The Night Express" by Erb, played by Chase Page; "Theme" from "Andante" by Handel; "Gnomes at Play" by Erb, an arrangement of "The Unfinished Symphony" by Schubert and "The Jolly Piper" by Fox, played by Marilyn Gadd. Other numbers included the reading of a short paper on "The Song of the American Revolution" and the playing of "Indian Medicine Man" by Hopson; "Jolly Good Fellow" by Norman; "Backyard Army" by Koehler and "Song of the Marines" arranged by Marlowe, by Donald Soper; a duet played by Donald Soper and Jack Bishop entitled "Waltz" by Von Behr; "Aria" by Bach; "Little Red Riding Hood" by Reining; "By the Brook" by Wilson and "Parade of the Peacocks" by Wilson, played by Jean Owens; "Parade of the Buccaneers" by LeMont; "Barcarolle" from "Oberon" arranged for the piano by LeMont; and "An American Plantation Song," played by Jack Bishop.

Ann Page closed the program with the playing of "Avalanche" by Heller; "On Skates" by King; "Le Secret" by Gautier and "Spinning Song" by Ellenreicht.

Marilyn Gadd was awarded first prize for the older students and Jean Owens first prize for the younger pupils in the piano practicing contest. A social hour followed the program. The pupils and their invited guests each brought a gift to be contributed to the Mayor's Christmas Cheer fund.

Signs Separation Order

Justice Bergan has signed an order of separation in the case of Clarence Bilyou against Edith Bilyou of this city, following a trial had at the November special term. The action was brought by the plaintiff on the grounds of desertion and by the order of the court the plaintiff is no longer responsible for the maintenance or support of the defendant. Bessie Bregman appeared for the plaintiff.

Barge Canal to Close

With ice beginning to form in the barge canal waterways the New York state routes will be closed to traffic and all vessels will be out of the canal by tonight. Guy W. Pinck, state canal commissioner, estimated today. Only ten ships remained in the canal yesterday. A push barge and tug which was caught in an inch of ice near Little Falls has succeeded in breaking out.

NEVER PROPER FOR NEWCOMER TO INVITE STRANGERS WHO HAVE MADE NO FIRST ADVANCES

This is Emily Post's Opinion Given in General Reply to Occasional Letters She Receives

To the occasional letter bringing up the question of whether it is ever considered proper that a newcomer in the community take the initiative in inviting older residents who have never invited her to their houses or even left cards on her, my opinion is this:

In certain staid old-fashioned communities the older generation would be likely to very much resent a newcomer's inviting them to her house when they themselves had not invited her to theirs first, and they would be horrified to have her invite them when they had not even left cards at her door. However, they who live in the newer, and probably less conventional communities, would surely not think invitations out of the way if they had stopped in to see her, or perhaps even talked with her over her garden fence.

But in no place that I can think of would people who had neither paid a visit nor given an invitation, nor at least shown very definite friendliness of manner to her, countenance her impatience (presumptuousness might be what they would call it) if she gave a party and invited strangers who had made no first advances to her.

Oxford Gray for Wedding Guests

Dear Mrs. Post: Would Oxford gray suits be just as suitable as the dark blue ones you ordinarily suggest for a simple daytime wedding? The men in our wedding seem to favor buying Oxford gray and I don't want to hold out for the blue unless there is some very good reason for doing so.

Answer: Oxford gray would be just as suitable as dark blue if they all wear the same. In fact, if anything, the Oxford gray is more formal than blue. Naturally, with these suits the men would wear black and white ties instead of the blue and white ones they wear with the blue suits. And of course white shirts and white boutonnieres.

Gifts for a New House

Dear Mrs. Post: What type of gifts are taken to a housewarming? Friends of friends of ours are giving such a party and they have sent us an invitation through our friends. We understand that nearly every one is taking a present. Since these people are strangers should we also take a present? In our case, we feel that this would be a high price for the privilege of seeing their new house.

Answer: It is unusual for any one to take a present to a housewarming, let alone people who don't know the house owners. At any rate, you certainly would have no reason to feel uncomfortable if others arrived bearing gifts and you brought none. On the other hand, you could literally find a suitable gift at the five and ten, which would be quite all right for a good-luck wish. In other words, expense need not come into the question.

(Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Mrs. Post is sorry she can no longer answer personal letters. She is glad, however, to have many printed slips on a variety of subjects to offer to her readers. Today's slip is "A Housewarming." Be sure to send a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Mrs. Post, in care of Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 150, Times Square Station, New York, N. Y.

Rose Wins Petition To Change Zoning On Franklin Street

The petition of the A. D. Rose estate to have the property on Franklin street, opposite the Rose grocery store, placed in the business zone, was granted Tuesday night by the Common Council when it approved the report of its laws and rules committee, recommending the amendment to the zoning law.

The laws and rules committee reported it had held a public hearing last week on the Rose petition to amend the zoning ordinance and that no one appeared in opposition to the proposed change, and the committee recommended it be granted.

Chimney Fire

The Phoenixia fire department was called to Alabean at 5 o'clock this morning by a chimney fire in the house of Carl Fichtner. The fire was extinguished with little damage outside of that from smoke. The fire alarm quit after sounding once, evidently "frozen up" in the three-below zero temperature.

Ruger Marriage Is Dissolved by Bergan

A decree of divorce has been signed by Justice Bergan dissolving the marriage of Nellie Ruger of Red Hook and Irving Ruger. Tried at the November special term here the plaintiff alleged that the time of bringing the action that her husband was living at Montgomery with a woman not his wife. Married at Choville by a justice on February 11, 1939, the plaintiff alleged acts in 1938 in the town of New Paltz upon which she based her action.

The plaintiff is awarded custody of minor children and by the decree is permitted to resume her maiden name, Nellie Wendover. The plaintiff may remarry but the defendant is forbidden to again marry, except with the express order of the court. Peter Harp appeared for the plaintiff.

Other Artists Exhibiting At Maiden Lane Show

Works by Eugene McEvoy of Woodstock and Maurice Dey of Cornwall are now being shown at the pre-Christmas art exhibit at the studio of Gladys V. Mitchell at 51 Maiden Lane.

The show which has been on for two weeks will continue through to Christmas. Oil paintings, water colors, wood block prints, etchings are on display along with works in a special color pencil technique.

The show includes also costume jewelry of a new design, pottery and woodcarvings, the latter by Fred Schaufelberger of Ulster Park.

Merchants May Change Meeting Date at Session

A proposal to change the annual meeting of the Uptown Business Men's Association from spring to January will be one of the topics under discussion at the regular meeting Thursday morning at the Farm Bureau assembly rooms on John street.

Other matters will be further discussion of the Christmas activities of the association such as Santa Claus, community tree, parking and the matter of lights. Vice President James H. Betts will preside.

Due to the lateness of the season and the inability of securing street decorations earlier it is probable that the plan to string lights and greens in the business section may be abandoned this season.

Discussion of a plan to put up increased lighting for Christmas and green streamers along the business section took place at recent meetings but when it came to awarding a contract for the work, it developed that the work could not be done until late and the plan fell by the wayside when the committee contacted the contractor and learned the date when the work could be done. Final disposition of the decoration matter will be made Thursday.

Dr. George Pote Dies

Port Jervis, N. Y., Dec. 4 (AP).—Dr. George Otto Pote, Port Jervis health officer, president of Deer Park Hospital, and a practicing physician for 39 years, died today.

Ponckhockie Ladies' Elect

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Ponckhockie Congregational Church held Tuesday evening was preceded by a covered dish supper to which members were privileged to invite guests. Annual reports were given at the meeting and the following officers elected: President, Mrs. Charles McGinnis; vice president, Mrs. Watson Goodrich; secretary, Mrs. Burdette R. Tuttle; treasurer, Mrs. Floyd Ellsworth. Mrs. John Heidenreich invited the society to hold its annual Christmas party on the evening of Monday, December 16, at the parsonage. Each member will bring an inexpensive gift for exchange with some other member. The program of entertainment for the evening will be in charge of Mrs. Tuttle.

Children, 6, Are Taught Principles Of Red Doctrines

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—The teaching of Communist principles to children as young as six has been brought to the attention of a legislative committee investigating subversive activities in New York schools.

How grade school pupils were instructed by Communist party members "to beat up boy scouts" and consider teachers and policemen as enemies was reported to the committee yesterday.

"They were taught the 'Soviet slant' on life," Ralph De Sola, a Brooklyn naturalist, testified at the committee's second public hearing.

The witness said he joined the Communist party in 1934 and was assigned to the "children's movement."

"The Communist 'training school' for children from six to 14," he added, was part of the program taught, although often the youngsters were instructed by themselves.

"I was 'socked and beaten up' by their intended victims," he said.

Coincidentally with this testimony, De Sola names as Communist teachers in New York Morris U. Schappes, City College history instructor, and Miss Elizabeth De-ward and Miss Yetta Feigenbaum, Brooklyn grammar school teachers.

All three later denied the charge as did seven of the nine present or former Brooklyn College instructors termed Communist by Dr. Bernard D. N. Grebanier, assistant English professor who included himself in the Brooklyn College list.

Continuing his testimony yesterday, Grebanier said his Communist party membership had cost him $500 a year in dues, assessments and other expenses, and that this was more than 10 per cent of his annual salary.

Once, he declared, he was forced to get a loan from a bank to meet his arrears. The party did not permit its members to be tardy in paying dues, he said.

Grebanier also testified that 100 college faculty members, representing Communist organizations on the campuses of the city colleges and Columbia and New York universities, once attended a "frac-

50 More Papers Sent Out to Registrants

Kingston's Selective Service Board today mailed out 50 more questionnaires to registrants, numbers 93 to 141, which included one "A" number.

Tuesday morning eight registrants were given physical examinations at the American Legion building, but the board has not yet received a report of the tests.

Ten more men will be examined physically next Tuesday morning at the Legion building.

Another meeting called by Communists in the Teachers' Union.

Another meeting, Charles J. Hendley, president of the Teachers' Union, which is part of the American Federation of Teachers (AFL), said his union was not dominated by Communists, and added it was not his right, nor that of the union, to question a member regarding his political or social views.

Hendley, a history teacher at George Washington High School, has refused to turn over the union's membership list to the investigating committee and has been held in contempt by the courts. His appeal awaits final action by the state court of appeals.

Steel Companies' Expansion Plans

Bethlehem Will Spend $18,000,000 to Boost Its Ingot Output

That expansion of the facilities of the nation's steel making industry, to meet demands of the defense program, is under way is indicated by the announcement that Bethlehem Steel is spending $18,000,000 to boost its ingot output and its pig iron and coke production. Other companies are planning smaller expansion programs.

Meanwhile, despite the heavy demand for steel, it is indicated that prices will remain unchanged for the first quarter of 1941. Carnegie-Illinois has reaffirmed present base quotations for that period and other steel companies are expected to follow suit.

The National Industrial Conference Board estimates that defense orders awarded up to November 1 will be providing jobs for nearly 4,000,000 workers by June 1, 1941 and that the number of workers will have dropped to 4,404,000 by that date. This estimate does not take into account possible increase in demand for non-defense products, due to the increased purchasing power of defense workers, which might still further increase employment and thus reduce the unemployment figure to a greater extent.

Trading on the Stock Exchange was at a still lower pace Tuesday, total for the day being 449,200 shares and at the close of the market, the following movement was noted: Little changed. The Dow-Jones industrial and rail averages closed slightly off for the day, industrials losing .15, to close at 130.78 and rails dropping .03, to 28.00. Utilities made the best showing and the average was up .14, to 20.25.

Paramount led the most active list and gained 1/4 in a turnover of 11,100 shares, making a new high for the year, out for the list as a whole nine of the 15 issues showed minus signs ranging from 1/16 (Commonwealth & Southern) to 3/4 (U. S. Steel). In addition to Paramount, Standard Oil of Ind. had a small gain, while the others closed unchanged.

Business in sugar and hides featured the staples markets and the Dow-Jones index dropped .10 point for the day. Wheat moved in narrow range and was off one to three-eighths at the close. There was stronger demand for cotton and the staple closed six to nine points higher.

President Whiting of Commonwealth & Southern has outlined a plan to be submitted to the SEC which will provide for retirement of $51,857,500 of the system's funded debt. Under the plan Commonwealth & Southern would sell its holdings of $24,231,000 in Georgia Electric Power Co. stock.

Of six insurance companies, 105 1/4. In addition the corporation will receive about $6,700,000 upon completion of dissolution of Tennessee Electric Power Co.

Indications are that the restrictions placed on deliveries of commercial airplanes are not likely to interfere greatly with the growth of the industry in 1941, but that chances are that an equipment shortage will appear in 1942, unless the situation changes in the meantime.

In a brief to the supreme court a group of southern cotton textile companies charges that the 32 1/2 cents an hour wage minimum set by the wage-hour administration would seriously affect a good percentage of the small mills in the deep south.

Various Grangers to Work Check Room for Conclave

The work of taking charge of the check room at the Municipal Auditorium, during the meetings of the New York State Grange next week, will be handled by committees from the various subordinate Granges of the county. Mrs. W. T. Hookey of Lake Katrine announces that the work has been divided among the different Granges as follows:

December 3, evening, Lake Katrine Grange.

December 10, morning and afternoon, Clintondale Grange; evening, Asbury Grange.

December 11, morning and afternoon, Plattekill Grange; evening, Ulster Park Grange.

December 12, morning and afternoon, Rosendale Grange; evening, New Paltz Grange.

December 13, morning and afternoon, Milton Grange.

The Finnish Ministry of Public Welfare has decreed that all wooden fabrics must contain at least 25 per cent artificial cellulose wool.

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—With the exception of rallying shipbuilding shares, the stock market slipped in an irregular decline today.

Operations were at a low ebb toward the final hour after a fairly active opening. Transactions were at a rate of about 600,000 shares.

Traders in the main sat back, seeking to determine a definite trend. Observers suggested the type of sell-off indicated merely liquidation of certain holdings for taxation purposes.

Chief gainers included N. Y. Shipbuilding, Electric Boat, duPont, International Mercantile Marine, Allied Chemical and Socony. Slanting lower were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, American Can and General Electric. More than 10,000 shares of Commonwealth & Southern changed hands at 1/16 point off.

Bonds and commodities were irregular. The London market closed with mixed trends.

At lower levels in the curb were American Potash & Chemical, Bell Aircraft, Commonwealth Public Service, National Steel Car and Gulf Oil.

General Chaney Believes Hitler Has Met Waterloo

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—One of America's chief air strategists believes last summer's "battle of Britain" will go down beside Marathon and Waterloo as a turning point in world history.

Major Gen. James E. Chaney, commanding the northeastern district, U. S. Army Air Corps, in an interview at LaGuardia Field yesterday after a 43-day stay in England, said "at the rate they are going, the British won't lose the war."

"I believe that in the air battle over England in August and September," he added, "historians will find material to record it as one of the decisive battles of the war, equally decisive as the eight to 12 battles from Marathon to Waterloo."

"My observations abroad have led me to the belief that England can't lose this war, unless she becomes over-confident or careless."

He expressed doubt that Germany's numerical warfare superiority over the British was as large as has been thought, but said the Nazi planes were of high quality and their fuel uniformly good.

He said one of the biggest factors in Britain's success so far in holding off the air invaders was its extensive ground observation network. With it, he declared, 100 planes could do the work of many times that number by remaining grounded until just the right moment for counter-attack.

He listed among current critical points the loss of some British merchant shipping and destroyers, and said England needs 100 more destroyers, several thousand planes, ports in Ireland, mercantile ships and financial credit in the United States.

He advised America to consider four important factors as a result of the war abroad. The problem of combatting night bombardments; improvement of plane-to-ground radio sets; building of more offensive power into fighter planes and defensive power into bombers; and the construction of anti-aircraft guns with a range up 40,000 feet.

Battles Influenza
Sunny California battled today its worst influenza epidemic since 1928. Although widespread, the disease is apparently of a mild form.

Health officials said 55,000 persons have been stricken in Los Angeles alone, which has reported 70 deaths from influenza and pneumonia.

Dr. Bertram P. Brown, state health director, estimated that 3 percent of the Los Angeles school children had been affected. Bakerfield reported that 25 per cent of the 130,000 residents of Kern county were ill. Schools were closed at Santa Barbara, Blythe and throughout the Palo Verde valley. Twelve members of the University of Southern California football squad which is to play Notre Dame Saturday—including three regulars—also were ill.

Northern California apparently was less severely stricken. Two influenza deaths were reported at San Jose. San Francisco listed 358 new cases, none of them fatal.

Dr. Brown said small towns and rural areas appeared most severely stricken although in Los Angeles county all of the deaths and most of the other cases were in the city proper.

Doctors, Nurses Stricken
In Los Angeles, one clinic, M. Sinai, reported that every doctor, nurse and employee had been stricken. At the Los Angeles county hospital, 22 doctors, 7 nurses and 47 other employees were ill.

Almost 800 teachers in Los Angeles were absent. One school here reported 600 of its 1,400 pupils stricken. Four hundred of the 2,100 prisoners in the county

Two State Ski Championship Events Arranged for County

Slalom Race Is Set for Phoenicia; Jump at Rosendale

80-Foot Toboggan Slide Is Under Construction at Williams; Downhill Goes to Placid

With three definite ski dates already established in Rosendale and on being considered in Phoenicia, the winter sport is already shaping up to have one of the biggest seasons in recent years.

According to word from Rosendale the New York State Ski Jumping Championship will be held here Sunday, January 26, with the Telemark S. C. as host. This event, as all others at Rosendale, will be under jurisdiction of the United States Eastern Amateur Ski Association.

In February two dates have been arranged under the auspices of the Telemark S. C. The first of these will be February 8 when the 12-mile cross-country race is held. This race will begin and end at Williams Lake. Then on February 23 the Rosendale Town Association trophy ski jumping contest under the sponsorship of the Telemark S. C. will be held. This is an invitation meet.

New Toboggan Slide
Sport fans who have other interests besides the ski thrills will be treated with about an 80-foot toboggan slide tower with an out-run of about 1,500 feet. This is now under construction and judgment of the progress, the tower will be completed at a near date. Beneath the tower will be a total of 22 rooms which will add to the guest facilities at the lake both during winter and summer seasons. Hockey matches, skating parties and other contests are being planned for this season.

Tuesday evening in the Elmdorf's Phoenicia Hotel Mrs. Walter Smith of Phoenicia was elected secretary to make arrangements on reservations for the spectators who will attend the many events in the town. Another officer, Miss James Coots, was elected as president.

The first scheduled snow train has been planned for Tuesday evening, December 31, which is New Year's Eve. The train will return Wednesday night. No other trains will be scheduled until Friday, January 17.

No Downhill Race
According to Lloyd Kinsey of Phoenicia, there will be no New York State downhill ski race this year, since it is being held in Lake Placid.

The only definite race now under consideration is the New York State Slalom Championship race to be held in February. Plans are to have this race open to all contestants, but if a larger number of entries are received, different classes will be necessary. However, officials are hoping to leave the race open for all.

Since last winter officials in Phoenicia have been making a few changes in the ski slope and surrounding grounds. The ski slope is in a far better condition than last year, since 20 truck loads of stone have been removed.

Hoyas Will Play in Orange Bowl
Once-Beaten Gridders Meet Mississippi State

Miami, Fla., Dec. 4 (AP)—Georgetown's Hoyas at last have a spot in a New Year's Day bowl game.

Beaten only once in three seasons—that setback a 19-18 loss to Boston College this fall—Georgetown was invited last night to play Mississippi State in the Orange Bowl next January 1.

The Orange Bowl committee had been hot after the Texas Aggies, but the Aggies decided not to play here and the Washington, D. C. school was invited.

Orange Bowl President Charles F. Baldwin said, however, that the committee was immensely pleased with the match.

Mississippi State's Maroons, using the Tennessee system as interpreted by Alvin McKeen, probably will be favored over Georgetown. The Maroons were ranked ninth in the country in the Associated Press final poll, to 13th for Georgetown.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—With Maj. Biff Jones going to the Rose Bowl, they'll have to get somebody to help Babe Hollingberry coach the west team in the San Francisco Shrine game. . . . Personally, we think Max Baer should have been given the award for doing the most for boxing this year—for getting rid of Galento, if nothing else. . . . Lefty O'Doul amazed the Atlanta baseball meeting by showing up in a brown, instead of a green, suit for a change. As Connie Mack would say, "Goodness me!" . . . Billy Meyer, who would have had the job if Jimmy Wilson had turned it down, is expected to take up where he left off at Kansas City.

Names Is Names
Don't ask the center of the Marquette basketball team to jot down his name unless you have time to hang around for a while. . . . It's William John Charles Patrick Michael Rogers. . . . He always adds, "Don't call me Butch."

Here's a New One
Gabe Kaufman, Kansas City promoter, who has been promised Joe Louis for a February fight, will try something new. He'll poll the customers, let them pick Joe's opponent, then try to sign the guy. That way, there'll be no come-back—he hopes. Maybe you've got something there, Gabe. . . . Warren Wright's Whirlaway, leading two-year-old money winner this year, is at Hialeah for the winter meetings. . . . Dizzy Dean, Long Island U. back, was injured after this season than all the other guys on the squad combined. . . . Here's another hard luck yarn: Mrs. Leo Durocher, taking her first vacation in 10 years, turned an ankle while stepping out of a plane at Los Angeles and was forced into bed while Leo took in the spots with his old pal, George Raft.

Today's Guest Star
Bill McKee, "Oscar" (O.) Times-Gazette, "Ash Valt, new Portland manager, is trying to reach a working agreement with a major league club. . . . Same old story. . . . Old Os spent all last season trying to reach a working agreement with a major league club."

Hither and Yon
President Paul H. Hebert flatly denies Duck Shaw will succeed Bernie Moore at Louisiana State, and what we mean is you couldn't get a more official denial than that. . . . Carl Snavely's first stop on the winter banquet circuit will be at Indiana, Pa., where he'll address an undefeated college team and a victorious high school team. . . .

to be called the "millionaire umpire" until he made an affidavit he didn't have any more lettuce than anybody else, has been elected to the New Hampshire Legislature and now is referred to as the "boy solon," he being the youngest member of that body. . . . Aerials Increase in Past Season
Development of Deception Gains Strength

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—A marked increase in forward passing and the development of more intricate offenses with an attendant out-break of fumbles were the two principal trends in 1940 football reported by the country's coaches today in the annual Associated Press survey.

In the south, the east, the mid-west and on the Pacific coast, coaches saw the forward pass becoming an increasingly important part of offenses. Harry Stuhldreher at Wisconsin noted not only more passing, but a better break. North Carolina didn't throw the ball any more than usual but Coach Ray Wolf found his rivals did.

Nebraska stressed the pass to win the Big Six title and the "Eastern" Rose Bowl bid. Cornell, partly through lack of a real power runner, was one of the country's passiest teams. Princeton, with Dave Allerdice, the pitcher, climaxed a two-year streak in which 23 of the Tigers' 35 touchdowns came directly through aerials.

After a season which Fritz Crisler at Michigan called the greatest from an offensive standpoint, he ever had seen (a view which might have been prejudiced somewhat by having Tommy Harmon on his team), Babe Hollingberry of Washington State and Doc Newton of North Carolina State were among those who emphasized the increase in deception.

Vanishing American

He shoots the works
The whale gets the point.

Feature Service.

Eureka, Calif.—Though the United States is the largest petroleum producer in the world, there still is enough demand for a special kind of lubricant—whale oil—to keep the cry of "Thar she blows" sounding on the California coast.

The only whaling station in the United States is located just south of Eureka. It is a tourist attraction, with passing motorists paying admission to see the catch. The oil is used in expensive face creams and soaps, in tanning leather and as a lubricant for fine mechanisms such as watches.

Years ago whaling was a major American industry. Today it is represented by the little 140-ton SS Gleaner which takes finbacks, humpbacks, sperm and subpurbottoms. The latter, known in the Atlantic as blue whales, are the largest in the world.

The gunner on the SS Gleaner uses a 135-pound exploding harpoon, attached to a cable which in turn is regulated by a winch. When there is a catch the Gleaner's crew of eleven is rewarded with bonuses ranging from $4.50 to $25.

Aggies Turn Down Other Bowl Offers

Texas Gridders to Limit Play to Dallas Game

College Station, Tex., Dec. 4 (AP)—The Texas Aggies are going to perform before the home folks if they play a post-season football game.

They turned down invitations to the Orange Bowl at Miami and a British relief game at Los Angeles to appear in the Cotton Bowl January 1 against Fordham if asked to play in the Dallas Classic. No invitation will be extended by the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association until after Saturday's game between Southern Methodist and Rice at Houston. Unless that game results in a tie, the winner will finish in a deadlock with A. and M. for first place in the Southwest Conference.

The Cotton Bowl Association has a tie-up with the Conference calling for its champion to play in the annual game.

Lutherans Win Two
The pre-setting Trinity Lutheran church took two more games last night by winning Trinity Methodist 9-6 and 4-3. The Methodists won the other contest by 10 to 6. "Pop" Sher's two homers and Dick Shabo's round tripper accounted for the win of 10 to 6. Next Monday night the Trinity Methodists will play Uster Park at the former church hall.

Conscription Will Help in Athletics

Ferris Says Competition Will Be Better

Denver, Dec. 4 (AP)—National conscription will mean more athletes in the nation's sports arenas as well as more soldiers for Uncle Sam, Daniel J. Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union, declared today.

"There isn't a doubt in my mind," the New Yorker said in an interview, "that if the army goes through with large sports programs as planned, any number of good athletes will be turned up who might never have a chance at real competition otherwise."

Ferris and President Laurence di Benedetto of New Orleans came here yesterday for the 52nd annual AAU convention, opening Friday.

The veteran secretary disclosed that Angelo (Hank) Luisetti, former Stanford basketball star and now a San Francisco Oil Company employe, has asked for reinstatement in the A. A. U. He was dropped for appearing in a motion picture based on his cage prowess.

"While we have no exact parallel cases with this," Ferris said, "I can think of no instance where a disgraced athlete has been reinstated."

Although the new Pan-American games (patterned after the Olympics) have been awarded to Buenos Aires for their 1942 inaugural, Ferris said there would be considerable discussion as to whether the Pan American group or the American Olympic committee should supervise the contests.

"They're talking about football."

Finally the search was rewarded. The mute pointed to one group. Indicated its members indeed were talking baseball.

"He's talking about John McGraw," wrote the lip-reader. "Says McGraw, the Giants' manager, had a pitcher who was always complaining."

Sharp gave up.

Game at Auditorium Is Expected to be Close; Middies Have Five Veterans Ready

The start of another DUSO Basketball League will be ushered in Friday evening at the municipal auditorium when G. Warren Kias and his Kingston High School team battles Middletown High. Starting time is 8:15 o'clock.

Word from Middletown should toss some light upon the DUSO picture this year as the Middie backers predict big things for Coach Mac Wagner's quintet. Five lettermen answered the initial call and the entire prospects look very bright.

Meanwhile, in Kingston Coach Kias will have his troubles in selecting a formidable roster. From last year's great team Kias lost Bob Curran, Harry Flowers, Ray "Lindy" Lindhorst, Milt Dubin and Bill Relyea, all important cogs in the game. Out of this only Joe Benjamin and Bill Struble will be left to bolster another big time cage outfit. Both are guards.

The five Middletown lettermen turning out the other afternoon were Stanley Raub, forward; Bill Osborne, guard; Scott McCormick, forward; and Marty Herman, forward. Sal Salvati and Milt Elerin are expected to see plenty of work this season.

To cope with the loss of the many veterans Coach Kias has Manny Kunst, Bill Ball, Dick McConnell, Huck Herrick, "Rip" Mathers, Johnny Rowland and Jack Kelse. A number of other cagers are expected to make their identity known before long. Kias started full time drills after the Thanksgiving vacation.

With Benjamin and Struble set for full-time backcourt duty Warren Kias must find two forwards and a center. Although the first game is less than a week away nothing is known on the possible starting lineup for the Maroon and White club.

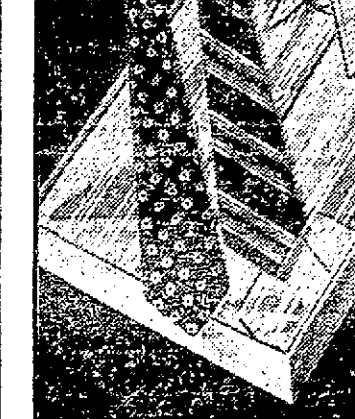

Following the opening clash with Middletown the Maroon team plays Port Jervis and Liberty before the Christmas vacation starts. The local club will remain idle until January 10, when Ellenville is met.

Paper Mills Must Furnish Data on Losses of Water

The Rondout Paper Mills, Inc., at Nanapoch has been directed to furnish a bill of particulars setting forth their claim in detail as to various facts concerning the operation of the mills and the alleged loss of use of the waters from the Rondout creek, which the paper company claims has been so polluted by the work being carried on at the site of the Lackawack dam that the water is no longer suitable for various processing purposes of the industry.

Some time ago the Rondout Paper Mills, Inc., brought an action to recover $100,000 from the City of New York and B. Perini & Sons, Inc., for alleged pollution of the stream through work being carried on up stream from the plant at the site of the Lackawack dam. Lounsbury & Lonsie appear for the plaintiff and the City of New York appears for the corporation counsel's office while the contracting firm of Perini appear by Roscoe V. Ellsworth.

Justice William H. Murray, before whom an application for a bill of particulars was made by the City of New York, had granted the motion and directed the plaintiff company to supply certain information sought by the defendants prior to trial of the action for damages.

Rondout Paper Mills, Inc., manufacturers of tissue, claim that since the work was commenced along the Rondout at Lackawack by the City of New York that certain foreign matters such as cement, rock dust and other foreign matters have been negligently allowed to enter the stream making the water unfit for certain processing purposes in the manufacture of tissue.

In 1939 the company put in a claim for loss of use of the water for processing and for power, alleging that the city was to deprive them of the use of the water of the Rondout creek.

The plaintiff claims that beginning in 1938 when work commenced along the upper Rondout creek that the deposits of rock dust, cement and other foreign matters were carelessly and in a negligent manner permitted to enter the stream to such an extent that the water was unsuitable for use in the manufacture of tissue and that the foreign matters damaged machinery at the plant.

The company asks for an injunction restraining the city and the contractor engaged on the work from continuing to pollute the stream and for recovery of $100,000 damages.

The bill of particulars was sought by the City of New York to give certain facts regarding the claim for damages in order to prepare for trial of the injunction action. Justice Murray has signed an order setting forth the facts and information which the defendant, City of New York, is entitled to from the plaintiff corporation.

Add to Your Good Times
By Telling Gay Fortunes

Friends Love Tea-Leaf Readings
What a fascinating fortune she finds for him in the tea-leaves. "A group like a daisy-happy love! A triangle—a windfall of unexpected money!"

He'll ask her on another tea date, you may be sure; indeed, every one enjoys the girl who can tell clever fortunes, whether by tea-leaves, cards or in other ways. She gives a gathering a dash of mystery, excitement.

And it's all very simple. A little home practice and you can be a full-fledged gypsy.

To read tea-leaves, just drink your cup of tea, put it aside down and then turn it around three times making a wish. Now what do you see? Look at a list of tea-leaf symbols and you'll find those three leaves in a line mean your wish comes true, the chair means an unexpected guest, a watch—a rival!

Card fortunes are fun too! You have your listeners agog as you discover the love of a dark man in the Eight of Clubs, a proposal in the Two of Hearts.

To find the meanings of all the cards, see our 32-page booklet. Explains the Old Romany, other fascinating ways to tell card fortunes. Gives a list of tea-leaf symbols, a horoscope for each month of the year. Tells how to read fortunes in dice, dominoes, the "crystal." Fortune games.

More Jobs, More Pay

In California, where seven major airplane factories are working "around the clock" for national defense, employment in the aircraft industry has risen 142.8 per cent in a year, while weekly payrolls are up 174.7 per cent and average weekly earnings have increased 13.1 per cent over 1939. In other sections of the country, aircraft production for national defense has caused similar stimulation of employment.

Stamps in the News

A 10-cent dark brown air mail stamp commemorating the centenary of the first adhesive postage stamp is being circulated by the Cuban government. The sheet went on sale November 22 in order that philatelists might have time to get first day cancellations arranged by November 28. Letters bearing the new stamp had to be in Havana by noon of the 28th.

The stamp is an elaborate one including the penny-black Cuban stamps, other art and a picture of Rowland Hill. The inscription includes "Centenario del primer sello postal."

New German relief stamps are appearing now in a set of nine.

Stamp Club Is Host To Fort Orange Society

The Colonial City Stamp Club of this city entertained as their guests members of the Fort Orange Stamp Club of Albany Monday evening.

Among the entertainment features for the evening was the showing of two talking moving pictures, "Public Hobby No. 1" and "Philately Yours," which depicted the printing of stamps by the United States government and some of the interesting individual features connected with the hobby of collecting postage stamps.

Clark R. Porter, of the Fort Orange Club, showed his collection of United States commemorative blocks in used condition.

George L. Habbert showed his excellent collection of early United States and Civil War covers, including the three-cent "pink" of the 1863 issue.

Eugene R. Borthwick showed his collection of match, medicine and internal revenue stamps.

Members of the local club are looking forward to a return visit to the Fort Orange Club in April.
